MAKING A DIFFERENCE

impact

DEAR FRIENDS,

Prairie Meadows began operations in 1989 and, over the course of nearly 25 years, one common thread has remained consistent – that Prairie Meadows be a catalyst for jobs, economic development, agriculture and tourism. That has remained our goal ever since and has allowed us to provide our state and local community with more than $1.2 billion in taxes and community betterment funding.

We are an excellent example of how a public/private partnership can benefit our local community, and we take great pride in being a non-profit organization that can help make a difference in the lives of Iowans.

Prairie Meadows is the result of a complete community effort, thanks to the commitment of so many people – volunteers, business leaders, elected officials, and hundreds of others who have been instrumental in the development and continued success of one of the great public/private business experiments in the entertainment industry.

Central Iowa has seen dramatic and positive changes over the last two decades, and all of us at Prairie Meadows have been thrilled to provide financial assistance to help make this such a vibrant and progressive community.

Thank you for allowing us the opportunity to share with you the great work being done through our giving and through the hard work of like-minded citizens who realize the potential the Des Moines area has to become one of this country's great cities.

Sincerely,

ALLON'S Story

"ALS is an inconvenience, but it has not defined me. The distinguishing factor between life and inconvenience – is faith."

My name is Allon Cady. I have ALS.

I think the first indication that anything was wrong, came one morning in church when I was walking back after Communion. I tripped and fell, and I'm sure at that point that a lot of folks around me thought maybe I'd had a little bit too much Communion wine.

But the truth is, the foot drop symptom that caused me to trip was an early indication that signals were not being sent correctly through the nervous system to the muscles in my legs.

Other symptoms followed soon thereafter. My family decided I needed a diagnosis to figure out what was wrong. Not long after that while I was at home, my legs collapsed and I fell and broke my ankle. Two months later at my visit to see my doctor in Iowa City, I learned I had ALS.

At the time, I did not have too much trouble walking with the assistance of a walker. But, I decided it was probably time to retire from the bookstore where I'd been working the past four years.

Much has happened in the two years since my diagnosis. Now, I need the use of my power-chair full-time. I'm not able to enjoy playing with my grandsons, or doing my own home repairs the way I once did.

We had to give up our swimming pool when we moved from a four-level split to a townhouse on one level. I am no longer able to drive. I need assistance for even simple, daily routines. The biggest affect ALS has had on me has been separating me from the activities that I had once enjoyed, mainly at church.

These are the inconveniences of living with ALS, but ALS has not defined me. The distinguishing factor between life and inconvenience – is faith. My faith has been a positive influence throughout life. It has held me steady from my childhood days to my service in Vietnam aboard a hospital ship – from college through 43 years of married life.

In 2012, Prairie Meadows contributed $70,000 through a Community Betterment Grant and our Walk to Defeat ALS. Prairie Meadows' support has funded respite care for ALS families who often need 24/7 caregiving. Our Care Services staff is also providing more home visits and customized support services to Iowans affected by ALS than any year as a result of Prairie Meadows' partnership.

What I love about the Prairie Meadows team is that their whole organization gets behind their community involvement and they make it personal.

Thank you, Prairie Meadows, for stepping up in the fight against ALS to help us provide assistance for the many Iowans directly impacted by this disease.

HISTORIC TERRACE HILL RESTORED

Terrace Hill, also known as the Hubbell Mansion, is the official residence of the Governor of Iowa. It is an excellent example of Second Empire architecture. Construction of the home began in 1866 and was completed in 1869. The total cost of the project was $250,000 for the mansion, the carriage house, the original furnishings and about 30 acres of land. The home became a National Historic Landmark in 2003.

"The $400,000 grant will go a long way to ensuring that Terrace Hill maintains a strong historical presence in the state, and hopefully future generations of Governors will love Terrace Hill as much as my family."

–Governor Terry E. Branstad

A Prairie Meadows Legacy Grant for $400,000 to the Terrace Hill Society Foundation will help to position Terrace Hill as a 21st century "green" structure with geo-thermal heating and cooling, new storm windows, plumbing improvements, an updated commercial kitchen and much needed exterior repairs.

Guests are provided evening and breakfast meals, access to shower and laundry facilities, a weekly medical clinic and group counseling, as well as individualized case management and life skills instruction.

Each year, approximately 1,700 homeless women and men receive emergency shelter and assistance to help them move beyond homelessness.

LIVING HISTORY FARMS

$100,000 Flynn Mansion Restoration

For many visitors to Living History Farms, the 1870 Flynn Mansion is at the heart of their visitor experience. The Flynn Mansion is one of only two buildings original to the Living History Farms property and is listed on the National Register of Historic Places. Unfortunately, an architectural study of the mansion revealed serious structural concerns and noted the need for physical repairs and improvements.

A Prairie Meadows grant of $100,000 helped Living History Farms to complete the restoration project.

The Flynn Mansion is among the most utilized educational sites for the 25,000 school children and teachers that visit each year to gain deeper knowledge of Victorian life, the interdependence of farms and rural towns, how railroads changed life and the landscape of the Midwest, and the impact of immigrants on Iowa history.

"Living History Farms' partnership with Prairie Meadows has been instrumental in the sustainability of programming for more than 25,000 school children annually. We are very grateful to Prairie Meadows, a true friend of the Farms!"
